

My father my father when I live my life against your will you tell me that you love me still
'cause I am still your child.

My father my father
when I run from you you don't let go I need you more than I pretend to know
'cause I am still your child.

My father